Maria / Antonio: I came back to this world in order to meet you. But I was shocked by how much you've changed... I don't remember anything after that... I never would've imagined you would turn out like that...
Nate / Rosa: I was sad that you weren't here anymore... Did I look that bad?

You don't understand the state you're in... Rosa... When Antonio died, you took your last breath as well. It was like you were following him...
Nate / Rosa: What? I'm already dead?

Smeargle: That's right! You died a long time ago, but you remained in this world. You stayed here in the amusement park, which is full of happy memories, and wandered around without remembering what happened. But dead people can't stay in this world forever. If you lose your body and your memory, you won't be yourself anymore!
Nate / Rosa: How can this be? How do you know all of this? Smeargle... What ARE you?
Smeargle: I came here at Maria's request to rescue you from wandering. When Maria came with me and saw how much you'd changed, she lost her memory in shock. And you, who'd lost your memory, got it back from the shock of seeing Maria again! Well six one way, half a dozen the other. Or we're back where we started! You two are a perfect match! Maria / Antonio: <Player>... Let's go... This world isn't where we should be anymore...
Nate: Of course... I'll go with you, Maria... I don't know what kind of world it will be. It seems that it will have strange things, like Pokémon that talk. Nate / Rosa: Please! Give me another chance!
